

Dear Readers,

Easter 1994

As you read this, Spring is settling in, crocuses are popping up, and Beacon Street is counting our blessings. We are nearing completion of our sixth year of ministry. Our benevolent landpersons, the parish council of Our Lady of Angels Parish, continue to extend our welcome on Rocky River Drive, a gift we could never have afforded on our own. Complimentary evaluations of our work, donations, and friendly faces continue to show up at our door. Who could ask for anything more? We could!

At the urging of our board and responding to interest you have shown, we are embarking on a search for volunteers. Beacon Street can benefit immensely from efforts you might easily afford. For instance:

- Mention our name when you know someone is looking for a program.
- Offer a brochure we could readily make available to you.
- Extend an invitation to our Fall Benefit, a dramatic production at a local theater.
- Provide names and addresses of individuals for our newsletter mailing list.

If your hands or feet are itching to pitch in, there are some opportunities that would welcome your involvement:

- Sorting and mailing our newsletter four times each year.
- Some of you may be willing to help with ticket sales and refreshments for the benefit.
- Oh, do you like to paint?

You may even be thinking of other ways you could lend a hand. So the board has suggested we get things rolling.

Below you will find space to indicate your willingness to volunteer and areas in which you may be interested. Feel free to identify other possibilities and send the tear off form back to us as soon as you are able. We will get back to you pronto and let you know of the status of this outreach.

We have no idea where this will lead but we are excited, and we are convinced it will, at the very least, be fun for everyone involved. We appreciate all you have done in the past and are thrilled that you may consider helping to plan for our future. We are a grateful bunch.

Peace,

Staff: Bob Kloos, Maria Livers, Jean Kloos, Jim Pipik. Board: Joyce Conway, Thom Foster, Benoy Joseph, Suzie Thompson, Fred Krause, JoAnn Nagy, Stan Kozak, Karen Peterson, and Vic Pergola
